HOUSTON, TEXAS (PRWEB) JULY 26, 2018

Over five hundred industry professionals will convene in Chicago in September to analyze and discuss the Mid-Continent natural gas market, and conduct business transactions. The 30th Annual LDC Gas Forum Mid-Continent takes place September 10 - 12 in downtown Chicago. This is the premier gathering for natural gas industry professionals, which is much more than simply a conference in that participants also complete business transactions.

The Mid-Continent region is one of the most dynamic natural gas markets in the U.S. The Mid-Continent has historically been a significant demand location for natural gas, and a cross-roads for natural gas being transported from traditional supply regions in the U.S. Gulf Coast, Rockies and imports from Canada. The U.S. Shale Revolution has dramatically changed the paradigm, causing a re-plumbing of traditional transportation routes. As a result, the Mid-Continent market is in significant transition with changing sources of supply, transportation routes, evolving market participants and commercial implications.

The LDC Gas Forum Mid-Continent is the premier annual event drawing together the industry's key influencers. Celebrating its 30 year anniversary, the LDC Gas Forum Mid-Continent has been the choice of leading industry players in this important market for three decades.

Jim Redford, VP Business Development, Union Gas (Enbridge), provides a keynote presentation, from the perspective of one of North America's largest natural gas utilities.

Richard Smead, Managing Director, Advisory Services, RBN Energy, provides market insights and analysis, from one of the industry's leading market analytical firms.

Teri Viswanath, Managing Director, S&P Global PIRA, provides a keynote presentation on North American Gas Trade looking at the 30 year evolution from import dependency to global supplier.

Dr. Jim Duncan, Director, Market Research, ConocoPhillips, a perennial audience favorite, is the luncheon keynote, providing his lively unique perspective on this region, considering a variety of influences including ongoing supply/demand balance gyrations, midstream buildout progress, policy, regulation, and weather.

The program also includes three Panel presentations on a variety of topics with a total of over twenty presentations. Panel topics include Market Dynamics/Fundamentals; Midstream Project Updates; and Gas Buyer's Perspectives.
